Announcement of New General Manager - Aggregation

The Nationwise Group is pleased to announce Mr Simon Gwynne's appointment to the General Manager Aggregation role for its newly established Viking Aggregation Business. Reporting to the Nationwise group CEO, Gus Kininmont, Simon will be responsible for launching the new aggregation platform and national growth initiatives supported by the national business development team.

Simon brings over 25 years of experience in financial services, management, leadership, business development, and consumer and commercial lending in Aggregation, Broking, Banking and Marketing. Before joining The Nationwise Group, Simon was Head of Aggregation at McMillan Shakespeare and held various management roles across banking and financial services.

Gus Kininmont said: "We are very excited to have Simon accept this role and join us on our journey. With our new Aggregation Platform close to launching, the need for an executive with vast experience in this field was vital to continue our rapid growth and drive the business further."

Please join us in welcoming Simon to his new role.

Gus Kininmont,
CEO Nationwise Group
